The prize is for an individual and cannot be shared, all are individual entries.

Entrants must consent to the entries being utilised by the Institute of Financial Advisers and the Retirement Commissioner as research and insight into communicating financial concepts to students.

No guarantee of return or retention of PowerPoint entries, so each individual should ensure they retain copies of their presentation.

Judges reserve the right to award no prize should the standard of entries be below reasonable expectations.

The judge's decision is final and no further correspondence will be entered into.
